Saturday Night is Night of Fatalities Along the Monongahela Valley

CHARLEROI MAN IS CRUSHED

Harry Beakley Dies at Uniontown Hospital As Result of Injuries at Oliver—Monessen Swede is Rolled About Under Street Car.

Saturday night was a night of fatalities and accidents and as a result, not counting the Belle Vernon murder there were two deaths occurred and a man badly injured. Harry Beakley, aged 35 years of Charleroi a brakeman on the Monongahela division, P. R. R., died at the Uniontown hospital Saturday night from injuries sustained the previous night while at work. W. F. Pound of Uniontown, well known here was killed at the Thompson yards. Oscar Lahiti, aged 22 and single of Monessen had a miraculous escape from death Saturday night when he fell under a street car near the Victoria hotel, Monessen.

Beakley, whose home originally was in Camden, N. J., was standing between a freight car and a concrete wall at Oliver No. 3 near Brownsville when the car started, crushing him between the wall and the car. He was internally injured and a fractured clavicle caused his death. The body has been shipped to Camden N. J. He was a popular railroad man.

Pound was a freight conductor. He was killed when he stepped from behind his train directly in front of a swiftly moving light engine at the Thompson yards near Duquesne. He leaves a widow and two children.

Lahiti, the Monessen Swede, was coming down the hill just before midnight Saturday near the Victoria hotel on a run. He was unable to stop and fell under a street car. He was rolled over and over, but the wheels did not pass over his body. When taken out, it was feared he was dead, but he murmered, "What are you moving me for; let me lay." He was taken to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, where his worst injuries were found to be bruises and lacerations about the body.

Dale Roberts Appointed Superintendent of Construction for Costly High School in Western City.

Word has been received here of the advancement of a Charleroi boy in a western city. This is in the person of R. C. Roberts, better known as Dale Roberts, who has just been made superintendent of construction of the new Central high school building to be erected at East St. Louis, Ill. The new structure, which is to be a fine one architecturally, will cost from $300,000 to $100,000 and it will take from 18 months to two years to construct it. Mr. Roberts, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Roberts, of Crest avenue and Seventh street, has been located in East St. Louis for four years and has made good as a construction engineer.

FIRE DAMAGES THE WAYNE HOME

SMOKE AROUSES THE INMATES

Starting in the dining room from an unknown cause, fire damaged the home of Philip Wayne, at 708 McKean avenue at 3 o'clock this morning to the extent of several hundred dollars. The dwelling is owned by Mrs. Florence Malicord and it is partly covered by insurance. The household furnishings were insured.

The fire was difficult to fight. After starting the flames advanced to the framework of the second floor and from there to the attic. Smoke aroused the inmates of the house and the fire alarm was turned in. The inmates escaped in their nightclothing.

After it was first controlled and the firemen had gone, the blaze got another start from sparks and at 5 o'clock a second alarm was turned in. Little effort was required then to prevent heavy damage. The damage to the household furnishings was heavy. In controlling the blaze the firemen used chemicals.

STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT ENTERS INTO PLANS FOR GOOD ROADS' DAY OBSERVANCE

Proclamation Issued by Governor Brumbaugh Brings Immediate Response—State Highway Commissioner Cunningham Gets Busy

The proclamation issued by Governor Burmbaugh designating Wednesday, May 26, as "Good Roads Day" throughout Pennsylvania has brought an immediate response. State Highway Commissioner Hunter at the head of the Bureau of Township Highways, have taken prompt steps to insure the hearty co-operation of the forces of the State Highway Department with those voluntarily enlisted in the counties of the Commonwealth.

According to a statement issued from the State Highway Department today, every effort will be made not only to enlist the forces of the State Highway Department on "Good Roads Day" but also to urge and advise township supervisors' boards in the more than fifteen hundred townships throughout the State to do all that they can to make the "Good Roads Day" red-lettered in the State's history. As showing the interest taken by the department in the project the statement cites the fact that Chief Engineer Uhler has written to the assistant engineers in charge of the districts throughout the state telling them that it is the wish of State Highway Commissioner Cunningham that they "make such arrangements as are necessary to give such advice and encouragement as is possible to the movement." The chief engineer further has told the assistant engineer that should there be any machinery or other equipment not in use on state highways, they may authorize its being used on the township roads on that day, and they are instructed also to authorize the superintendents in their districts to cooperate. Continuing, the statement says:

"Furthermore, First Deputy State Highway Commissioner Hunter has written a circular letter to the county superintendents and the assistant engineers, in which he asks them on behalf of the bureau of township highways, to extend their co-operation in making the state wide 'Good Roads Day' a success. Mr. Hunter calls their attention to the fact that on "Good Roads Day" in Washington county last year, about $12,000 worth of work was done at but little cost to the township.

"We would suggest that each supervisor take a leading part by organizing the work in his district; get together with the business men and all organizations in your township and affect an organization to direct the work. Do not hesitate to ask the local representatives or this office for any information that you may need concerning this work."

"State Highway Commissioner Cunningham declared today that while his department did not seek to father the 'Good Roads Day plan, nevertheless he wanted all interested to understand that the department would co-operate in every way possible with the citizens of the state in making 'Good Roads Day" successful."

ONE MAN IS KILLED IN BELLE VERNON BOARDING HOUSE FIGHT

Peter Mancusa is Shot Four Times and Stabbed Three Supposedly by C. Augetti

ASSAILANT MAKES HIS ESCAPE

Believed to Have Gone Over Hill in Direction of Belle Vernon—Dead Man Well Known Among Italians Of the Neighborhood.

In a battle in their boarding house on Bluff street, Belle Vernon, Peter Mancusa was first shot and then stabbed to death by a man said to be Cangori Augetti at about 11 o'clock Saturday night. It is said they had been quarrelling over their work. Mancusa was a track foreman employed by the Webster, Monessen, Belle Vernon and Fayette City street railways line, and the other for a time was employed as a laborer under him. Augetti escaped.

The killing occurred in the presence of two Italians. It is said that the two men had been together Saturday evening, and that they had returned to the house just a short while before the quarrel started. Augetti, the story goes pulled a gun, and fired four shots. Then Augetti pulled a stiletto from his belt it is stated and stabbed Mancusa three times. Then Augetti fled, going over the hill, and it is reported to the police in the direction of Greensburg.

Deputy Coroner J. W. Gordon of Belle Vernon was at once notified and the police put on the case. No trace of the wanted man was found.

Sunday afternoon late Deputy Coroner Gordon made an autopsy of the body. He found four bullet wounds and three knife wounds in the chest and back any one of which would probably have proven fatal.

Dr. Gordon is arranging for an inquest, which will be held in a day or two. He has empaneled the following men to serve on his jury: E. S. Young, H. N. Beazell, Charles Beazell, Harrison Husher, Conrad Metz and Prof. Jensen.

Mancusa was a well known Italian. He was about 28 years old and leaves a wife and two children in Italy. He was planning to bring them to this country after the war. His assailant was a man of about the same age, and is said not to have been married.

The two men said to have witnessed the killing were placed under arrest Sunday at Belle Vernon and are being held as witnesses.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES TO BE HELD IN CHARLEROI ON MAY 30

Veteran Guard Decides That Program be Carried Out, and Ministerial Association is Asked to Help.

Memorial day services will be held in Charleroi. That is the decision of the Veteran Guard, which started the movement for memorial services last year, and carried plans through to completion. The Charleroi Ministerial Association has been asked to take charge of the events.

This year Memorial day comes on Sunday, so it will be made somewhat of a church day and it is the intention to have special services in honor of the old soldiers at one or more points to be decided upon later. Perhaps May 31 will be celebrated likewise as Memorial Day, with a special program at the playgrounds, or elsewhere.

INVESTIGATING STAMP MATTER

POSTOFFICE PEOPLE COMING

Suspicious actions on the party of John Tolacek of near Ninth street and Prospect avenue, during the fire at the home of Phillip Wayne at 708 McKean avenue this morning, led to his arrest. Late developments have been such in his case that postoffice authorities have been summoned here to look over articles in the possession of Tolacek to ascertain if they are any that were stolen recently at a Bentleyville postoffice robbery or at the Braznell postoffice robbery in Fayette county.

Tolack was seen making away from the Wayne home and he attracted attention by his eccentric actions. Policeman James Murphy and others started to investigate and the man fled. He was then chased and finally rounded up not far from his home crawling by the side of a fence apaprently to escape detection.

Chief of Police C. W. Albright searched the house this morning on a search warrant and located from $75 to $100 worth of stamps, and a lot of clothing. The stamps, Tolacek said, he had purchased, but his wife said he had acquired them by being secretary of a lodge. The postoffice inspector and the postmaster at Bentleyville were informed because of the suspicion of the police that all was not well about the ownership of the stamps and both agreed to come. In the man's possession was also found a sort of printing press that the police believed might have been stolen. When arrested Tolacek had in his pockets a gun and a searchlight.

CAUSE OF THE DEFICIT

Treasury reports for the first ten months of the fiscal year show that the Treasury deficit exceeds $100,000,000. A combination of causes produces this result. The falling off of revenue as a result of the European war made a serious inroad of the money available, but the distinctive feature was the absolute neglect of congress to reduce expenditures to correspond with income, says the Pittsburg Dispatch.

An intelligent man when he finds his income materially shrunken, from causes beyond his control, will cut down his expenditure to correspond. The ordinary corporation which spends $110 for every $100 of income would speedily find itself in the custody of the courts. But politicians in managing the public expenditures seem to be governed by a different rule. An external cause cuts down income materially and this is promptly followed by the introduction of new and frequently wasteful expenditures.

The Democratic party's case is notable in that it was elected on a platform which assailed Republican extravagance and promised reform by the Democrats. Instead of redeeming that promise, it has somewhat exaggerated that promise. The hunger of the Democrats for fat appropriations is too strong for resistance.

Therefore, it is fair to say that the deficit is due to the fact that the Democrats as a party have not virtue enough to cut down expenditures in proportion to income.

THE BACKYARD GARDENER

Observation of the most casual sort is sufficient these days to convince any one that the "backyard gardener" was never more in evidence nor busier than he is this season. For years the man who patiently tilled the few square feet of soil that lay in the rear of his residence was the object of good-natured raillery in season and out of season. Today he is taken more seriously. The remarkable increase in his numbers has caused the erstwhile joke to become current advice on planting. And even the ubiquitous statistician is beginning to take cognizance of him. One has it for instance, that there are three backyard gardens today, where five years ago there was only one.

That would probably prove to be a conservative estimate. A glance just over across the backyards of any neighborhood almost anywhere in a town or city would suggest that it is really too conservative, says the Indianapolis News. It would be difficult, indeed to make a fair estimate of the actual number of little gardens under cultivation. It would be still more difficult to appraise the value of what they produce. It is safe to say, however, that they are usually made to yield their utmost, and that, on the whole, what they produce is better in quality and earlier in season than that which the market affords and certainly, it is fresher.

Throughout the country the practice of backyard gardening has spread and increased, and there can be little doubt that these diminutive cultivated areas add materially to the wealth of the nation. Undoubtedly, too, they add to the nation's health. Many a tired business man finds wholesome diversion and healthful exercise in tending his vegetable patch.

WAR PREVENTION WORLD COURT AIM

Congress to Organize at Cleveland, May 12.

WM. H. TAFT ON PROGRAM.

Committee Headed by John Hays Hammond Not to Deal With Present Conflict, but to Devise Means of Establishing Supreme Arbitration Board of International Justice.

Plans for holding a world court congress at Cleveland, O., May 12, 13 and 14 are announced by the committee of one hundred, under whose auspices it is being arranged. Comprising the committee are representatives of peace societies, educational institutions and civic organizations.

For weeks the holding of this congress has been under advisement by a number of the most representative friends and advocates of the judicial settlement of international controversies. As the result of these conferences the world court committee was organized for the purpose of devising ways and means of establishing a supreme court of the world.

It is not the thought of the committee nor the purpose of the congress to deal with the present war situation. The movement contemplates the establishment of judicial machinery at the close of the war as the one necessary means of preventing future wars. In the organization of the committee it was agreed that but one question should be discussed at the approaching congress—viz. the judicial settlement plan.

Hammond Is Chairman.

John Hays Hammond was selected as chairman on account of his practical business sense, his diplomatic temperament and personal acquaintance with most of the rulers of the world. Dr. John Wesley Hill, president International Peace Forum, is secretary of the executive committee.

On Wednesday, May 12, a luncheon will be tendered the delegates by the chamber of commerce of Cleveland. At 3 p. m. following the organization of the congress, addresses of welcome will be delivered by Governor Willis, the mayor of Cleveland, and the president of the chamber of commerce, responded to by Hon. John Hays Hammond. At 5 p. m. a reception will be given the guests of honor at the Hotel Statler.

At 8 p. m. the program will be formally opened with addresses by Hon. William Howard Taft and Judge Alton B. Parker on "The United States Supreme Court a Prototype of a World Court."

DR. JOHN WESLEY HILL

To Prevent Future Wars.

Thursday morning, 10:30 a. m., "The Growth of the Judicial Element In International Arbitration" will be discussed; 3 p. m., "Composition of the World Court;" 8 p. m., "Possibilities and Limitations of the World Court."

Friday, 10:30 a. m., "Minimum Number of Nations Required to Successfully Inaugurate the Court;" 3 p. m. "Plans For Promoting World Court."

The concluding meeting will be held at 8 p. m. for the discussion of "The Relation of the International Court to the International Welfare." This subject will be discussed by John Mitchel of the American Federation of Labor, Dr. John Wesley Hill, Frederick P. Lee, secretary of the Church Peace Union, General Ballington Booth of the American Volunteers and Dr. Lyman Abbott, president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor. The meetings will be held in the Cordon theater and a number of Cleveland musicians will render selections.

Many Noted Speakers.

Among those who have accepted invitations to address the congress are William Howard Taft, Judge Alton B. Parker, Rev. John Wesley Hill, John Hays Hammond, Governor Frank B. Willis, Charles B. Warren of Detroit, Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois, Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio, Bishop Luther B. Wilson, Professor Jeremiah W. Jenks, Bainbridge Colby, Rabbi Joseph Silverman, Dr. Frederick Lynch, Hon. Theodore Burton, Henry Clews, Dr. Albert Shaw, John Mitchell, Professor Samuel T. Dutton, Hon. James Brown Scott, Thomas Raeburn White and Emerson McMillin.

Tells of Its Objects.

In announcing the congress the general committee makes the following statement as to its objects:

The project of a true international court of justice has been sufficiently examined. It was adopted in principle by the forty-four states composing the second Hague conference (1907), was indorsed by the Institute of International Law (both) and since 1907 has received the hearty support of all the leading powers, including Great Britain and Germany. It has been exhaustively studied at four annual conferences of the American Society for Judicial Settlement of International Disputes and by foreign governments and publicists. The suggestion has also met with the approval of state legislatures in the United States, of leading chambers of commerce and of representative religious bodies. Indeed, it is approved by thoughtful men everywhere.

Practical men dislike to go on talking about projects when their desirability and practicability have been demonstrated. They insist upon seeing them realized. The project of the court is a mature project. The time has come to take positive action looking toward its prompt establishment at the right moment. That it will be a powerful additional factor for the future peace of the world is not doubted. That it will build up international law, so essential to peaceful relations among men is equally accepted.

Present Methods Weak.

The present unspeakable conflict abroad has brought with it a vivid conception of how unintelligent our present methods are, of how painfully we lack in the international field the simplest machinery for the avoidance of conflict such as is provided in the internal organization of the state.

With a view to focusing the American public to a consciousness of the possibilities that lie in the creation of a true court of justice for the nations and developing an insistent demand for it, thus strengthening the hands of the United States government in its appeal for its early establishment, a congress has been planned for May 12, 13 and 14 at Cleveland, O. The speakers will be requested to avoid any references which will give the impression that this is a step the war movement or concerns itself with the question of national defense.

HON. WILLIAM H. TAFT.

Committee of One Hundred.

This statement is signed by the committee of one hundred, which includes in its membership John Hays Hammond, William Howard Taft, H. C. Stokes, Alton B. Parker, Henry Clews, Oscar S. Straus, Franklin Murphy, Lawrence T. Sherman, J. B. Foraker, John Wanamaker, Andrew Carnegie, Cardinal James Gibbons, Frank J. Goodnow, Theodore Marburg, Albert Shaw, Eugene W. Foss, Right Rev. Bishop Luther B. Wilson, Charles W. Fairbanks, Theodore E. Burton, Myron T. Herrick, William R. Day and Governors Charles S. Whitman, New York; Marcus H. Holcomb, Connecticut; Brumbaugh, Pennsylvania, and Fielder, New Jersey.

The Delegates.

Delegates to the convention will be composed of appointees by the governors of the various states, the mayors of the leading cities, presidents of universities, civic, industrial and patriotic societies and all the peace societies. This will be the only congress of the kind ever held in this or any other country.

Its exceptional character is found in the fact that it is not primarily a peace congress. Peace is the ultimatum. But the object of the congress will be to thoroughly discuss and decide upon the organization of the peace sentiment of the world into practical and rational method of securing peace. The congress will devote itself to the method, the method having been adopted at the last Hague conference and reaffirmed by the committee of one hundred—viz. the judicial settlement of international disputes, which procedure necessitates the organization of a world court.

WOMAN IN BAD CONDITION

Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Montpelier, Vt. — "We have great faith in your remedies. I was very irregular and was tired and sleepy all the time, would have cold chills, and my hands and feet would bloat. My stomach bothered me, I had pain in my side and a bad headache most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me lots of good and I now feel fine. I am regular, my stomach is better and my pains have all left me. You can use my name if you like. I am proud of what your remedies have done for me." — Mrs. MARY GAUTHIER, 21 Ridge St., Montpelier, Vt.

An Honest Dependable Medicine

It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for nearly forty years, and to-day hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

CURED OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

"Dear Sufferer:—Last summer I was attacked with kidney trouble. Incessant backache was the first symptom. Whenever I stooped to tie my shoes I felt a dizzy, swimming sensation in my head. It was almost impossible for me to straighten up because of my stiff back. My hands were puffed and covered with little brownish-yellow spots. The kidneys were highly congested and off in action. I heard of Lloyd's kidney and rheumatism tablets as the new and scientific treatment, so tried it. It proved a wonder. The backache and yellow spots have entirely disappeared and I now feel better in every way.

I advise you, suffering from backache, tired feeling, restlessness, nightly arising, any kidney or bladder ills or rheumatism, to get from your druggist today a few Lloyd's, the kind that cured me. Don't injure your kidneys by using salts or powerful drugs.

Signed, C. R. Hopwood, Kenton, O."

"The Best Tobacco Made"

Emphatic Statement by an Eminent Authority—Pipe-smokers, Read what John G. Capers Has to Say

"When I was Commissioner of Internal Revenue under Presidents Roosevelt's and Taft's Administrations, I had a great deal to do with tobacco. In the collection of millions of dollars of tax I came intimately into contact with the whole business. Tuxedo I consider the best tobacco made. I smoke it myself and find it soothing and restful, mild, fragrant and non-irritating to the throat."

Mr. Smoker, that's evidence straight from an authority that Tuxedo is the top-notch smoke of them all. The tobacco that a famous Internal Revenue Commissioner chooses for his own smoke because he considers it the best tobacco made.

And remember this, men:—that's picking Tuxedo from a mighty big field; for between you and us and the account sheet, the Government collects $100,000,000 a year in revenues from tobaccos.

Mr. Capers is now a prominent and successful practising lawyer in Washington, D. C., and we are glad to include his name in Tuxedo's great list of friends. It's the same old story everywhere Tuxedo is tried: Quality tells.

JOHN G. CAPERS
Prominent Washington Attorney, formerly Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Don't quarrel with your pipe and don't quarrel with your tongue. Take your tobacco troubles to good old Tuxedo!

Your pipe'll be sweet and your tongue'll be sound if you smoke Tuxedo. Tuxedo can't bite or blister. That's all taken out by the famous "Tuxedo Process"—the original process which the other brands like so well that they try to imitate it.

And you'll find the Internal Revenue Commissioner absolutely right as to Tuxedo's quality.

MONONGAHELA BAKERY IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Establishment of Nick Miale Damaged to Extent of $5,000 by Blaze Supposed to be of Incendiary Origin—Insurance Carried.

Fire believed to have been of incendiary origin early Sunday morning gutted the bakery belonging to Nick Miale in Chess street, Monongahela. The blaze destroyed the building, the machinery of the bakery and carload of flour. The loss is estimated at $5,000 and is partially covered by insurance.

About 3 o'clock Wilbur Pollock a liveryman residing a few doors from the Miale bakery saw smoke coming from the building and went out to investigate. He found the interior of the building in flames and succeeded in rousing Miale who had rooms in the building.

They sent in the alarm but when the fire department arrived the flames had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the bakery. The best that could be done was to prevent nearby houses from igniting. Miale says he has no idea how the fire could have started and says it is his belief that someone started it for him.

FAYETTE COUNTY GETS LARGE SUM FOR ROADS

Expenditure of About $50,000 on Improvement of Highways to be Started in Near Future. According to Engineer Stevens.

Expenditure of almost $50,000 by the State Highway Department on the state roads in Fayette county has been authorized by the State Highway Commissioner. Work is to begin at once. This is the official information that has been received by Superintendent H. B. Stevens, of the Highway Department's Uniontown office. The authorization of the work in Fayette county means work this summer for almost 400 men.

The Highway Department has allotted $43,050 as Fayette's share of the maintenance fund for state roads to be expended this summer. Superintendent Stevens said that he is preparing to begin work immediately, and said that he was ready to receive bids from persons who have such equipment as rollers, sprinklers and traction engines to rent. He is also ordering material for resurfacing work.

Four roads in the county, including the Pittsburg road from Uniontown to Oliver are to be resurfaced. The first work that is to be started by Superintendent Stevens is the repairing of the Brier Hill road. There are several bad places in this road, and the Highway Department has made an appropriation of $350 for this work. Superintendent Stevens expects to have this work completed by the last of next week.

LINE THROUGH NIGERIA

BRITISH TO CONSTRUCT RAILROAD IN WILD LAND.

Laborers Who Will Be Employed Are Cannibals, and White Men Will Be in Constant Danger of Their Lives.

A new railroad is being constructed by the British through the territory of Nigeria, in West Africa.

It will penetrate the regions known as "Jujuland," so-called because the inhabitants were long enthralled by a horrible idol known as "Long Juju."

It will be built by cannibal natives who have shown themselves the most intelligent and industrious workmen. It will open up the last region of Africa where white men have not yet settled.

The new line into Nigeria will be 530 miles in length and will take four or five years to build. It will cost about fifteen million dollars. It is being built by the colonial government, of which the head is Sir Frederick Lugard. The country which is to be opened up is rich in palm oil and coal, which the British expect to yield a handsome revenue on the money invested in the road.

Fifty thousand natives have been hired for the work of building the road. They will work under the direction of British engineers and foremen. Doubtless some Americans will be associated with the enterprise.

These natives of Nigeria are noted for their obstinate cannibalism. Although the practice has been suppressed wherever possible by the British officials, the Nigerians in the depths of this wild country frequently find an opportunity to indulge in their peculiar taste. They attack an isolated village, destroy the houses and feast upon the inhabitants.

Sometimes they take their victims to a lonely part of the forest, keep them in a corral and fatten them up for a great banquet. Several times the white men have accidentally stumbled upon the hiding place of these destined victims of the cannibals.

The white engineers and workmen will have to guard themselves carefully, for the cannibals believe that white flesh is the greatest kind of meat. By eating it they imagine that they will acquire the cleverness and other qualities of the deceased person. Very few natives are daring enough now to attack white men, but there is no knowing what they might do in a moment of excitement. Half a dozen white men in a jungle 500 miles from help may be in a delicate situation.

Danger from lions and other wild animals will be very great. During the building of the Uganda railway hundreds of laborers were carried off by lions, and in recent months the beasts have walked into railroad cars and snatched off defenseless travelers.

In Nigeria lions are even more numerous than in Uganda. Their numbers depend largely on the amount of food they can find. Elands, antelopes and other game of various sizes are so abundant in Nigeria that the lions find inexhaustible food. Sometimes as many as 50 or 60 lions lurk in a patch of jungle a few acres in extent, near a drinking place where the food animals gather.

The new railroad will run along the river banks and will cross the favorite hunting places of the lions. There will be a tremendous disturbance among the animals.

Bruges as a Relic.

Bruges has been celebrated by poets and mystics as a relic of the past, but its medieval aspect is also due to present design. One does not penetrate it far without discovering as squalid, ill-cared for and poor a town as Belgium before the war could produce. But of its outward venerable appearance the authorities are not neglectful, and anyone building a house, who is willing to be guided as to style by the town architect, receives about a third of the cost of the frontage out of the municipal chest. One characteristic Bruges still retains from the days when it numbered 200,000 inhabitants of all countries. It has a large cosmopolitan element, including numerous English.

Self-Defense.

Men have been known to kill rabbits in self-defense, but to kill a hen for the same reason is uncommon. Yet a New England woman used this unique excuse when her neighbor trailed a missing hen.

"The hen came at me like a fury," she told the judge. "She seemed determined to scratch my eyes out. I fell back and she pursued me. Then we fought and fought and I finally killed her."

Alas, for the theory of defense! The hen was found with her feathers off, gently stewing in the aggrieved woman's kettle.

And the judge gravely shook his head as he rendered judgment against the kettle owner.

Leave Boots in Trench Mud.

A private of the Welsh Fusiliers, who is among the wounded who reached Cardiff recently, said:

"I have seen men in the trenches pulling at their boots for over twenty minutes in an effort to get out of the mud, and finally going without their boots, which are doubtless there now.

Another man said he himself had been in the trenches barefooted.—London Globe.

NORTH CHARLEROI HOME IS DAMAGED BY SINKAGE

A dwelling owned and occupied by a family by the name of Tardina, on Highland avenue at North Charleroi, sank so far at one end Saturday that it was left in a dangerous shape, and the house badly damaged. The sinkage is supposed to have been due to excavations under the surface carried on by the Carnegie Coal company. The foundation cracked when the ground sank, and the people in the house made a hurried exit.

He is planning to leave for Wales on May 12 to visit during a part of the summer.

CRANDALL TO GIVE HIS ENTIRE ATTENTION TO LECTURE WORK

Milton D. Crandall, the local motion picture lecture has resigned the management of the Star theatre on Fallowfield avenue to continue his work upon the lecture platform. Since coming to Charleroi Mr. Crandall has lectured in several nearby towns, but has found it rather inconvenient to give the Star theatre his personal attention.

Mr. Crandall has achieved considerable success as a "movie" lecturer, having won the first prize awarded by the Linn Oratorical Society at Nashville last November.

Kicks Chick: Breaks Leg.

A pugnacious Plymouth Rock rooster and a woman's attempt to kick have furnished a case for the doctor. The rooster belongs to W. E. Coughenour, a dairyman of Dunbar, Pa. It has been creating trouble by chasing children, and Mrs. Coughenour, who takes care of the family hennery, made up her mind to give the vicious bird a lesson.

Going out to the flock to give the chickens their morning meal, she was attacked by the rooster. Mrs. Coughenour took careful aim, and delivered a powerful kick, intended to put the bird out of business. She missed, her foot struck a stone, she fell disabled, and a physician found her leg broken.

Why They Were "Bad Company."

A soldier, charged with being drunk and disorderly, mentioned, in extenuation of his offense, the fact that he had been compelled to travel up from camp in very bad company.

"What sort of company?" asked the magistrate.

"A lot of teetotallers!" was the startling response.

"Do you mean to say teetotallers are bad company?" thundered the magistrate. "I think they are the best company for such as you!"

"Beggin' your pardon, sor," answered the prisoner, "ye're wrong, for I had a bottle of whisky and I had to drink it all mesel'."

Their Use.

"Why do you advocate blanket street-paving bills?"

"To cover the beds of the streets, of course."

The Prevailing Rates.

"That writer is expensive, but there's meat in everything he writes."

CHARLEROI WINS OPENING CONTEST

Baseball Season Ushered in Here Saturday by Victory With Score 10 to 5

KREPPS TWIRLS GOOD BALL

Fans Ten Men and Only Permits Four Hits in Struggle at Local Ball Park—Locals Strong on Batting End, Tallying 11 Bingles.

Formally ushering in the baseball season, Charleroi soundly whipped the Donora independent team Saturday on the Charleroi ground by the score of 10 to 2. The game was characterized by good playing generally and by the twirling of Krepps for Charleroi. Then Krepps was given splendid support and there was keenness displayed in the batting line.

For the beginning, Charleroi presented a lineup that looked entirely new, but John McIlvaine, smiling the inscrutable smile of a Connie Mack, proved that he as coach knew precisely what he was doing in selecting material.

Donora came with as strong an aggregation as has represented the down river town in years and among other notables had Coatesworth, of California located at the first station.

The first score was made by Donora in the first inning, but the Magic City nine felt their way, and did not start their run getting until the second, when they tallied two by timely tapping of Hale's offerings. The Donora run was scored on a base on balls and a double.

Opening up the second inning for Charleroi Stark slapped out a single. Hess followed with a double, chasing in Stark. Adams flew out. Krepps singled, Sannier was hit by the pitcher, and Schafer singled. Hess scored.

Donora's second run of the game was scored in the eighth inning. Grant was given a walk and stole second. He waited eagerly there until Wolfe brought him in with a single.

The baloon ascended in the seventh and eighth innings, when there was a Fourth of July demonstration that was not of safe and sane variety to Donora's hopefuls. Schafer started it by getting on through an error. Nichols was safe on a fly to right field that wasn't caught. Stark clouted out a beaut. To make a long story short the locals scored three runs. The five runs in the eighth inning came on five hits a base on balls and an error. The score:
